OBJECT OF THE GAME

Fact is often stranger than fiction.

In this fast-paced trivia game, your aim is to wow the opposition with how much you know about Hollywood celebrities and their paparazzi-filled world.

From hidden secrets to the latest headlines, you will be asked the one question that really counts: is it FACT or CRAP®?

SETTING UP THE GAME

1) Each player gets:

- 1 "Fact" answer card
- 1 "Crap" answer card
- 10 tokens

2) Place a "bank" of tokens in the middle of the table, based on how many players are playing:

- 3 Players = 45 tokens
- 4 Players = 60 tokens
- 5 Players = 75 tokens
- 6 Players = 85 tokens
- 7 to 8 Players = All 100 tokens

NOTE: For a shorter game, put 10 tokens in the bank for each player.

3) Shuffle the Fact or Crap Question cards and Rush Hour Cards into one deck.

4) Give the card deck and the timer to the first player.

PLAYING THE GAME

Decide among yourselves who will start the game. This person is the first Reader, who draws a card from the deck.

If the Reader draws a Fact or Crap Question card, they read out the first statement.

The other players decide (as fast as they can) if it is FACT or CRAP by placing either their "Fact" or their "Crap" answer card face down on the table.

The Reader decides which player was fastest and they are first to reveal their answer.

If the fastest player was correct they take two tokens from the bank. If not, they lose two tokens by putting them back into the bank.

The other players reveal their answers and receive one token if correct, or put one back if they are incorrect.

Once the Reader has read all three questions, the card is returned to the bottom of the deck. The next player clockwise is the new Reader, who draws a new card to continue play.

RUSH HOUR

When the Reader picks up a Rush Hour card, they select one player to play the Rush Hour round. The selected player has only 30 seconds to answer all five questions on the card.

The Reader reads the category heading on the card, then turns the timer over and begins reading the questions, one at a time. For each answer the selected player correctly calls out as FACT or CRAP, they take a token from the bank. If they are incorrect, the Reader takes a token from the bank instead. Remember, to win tokens you both have to be quick as you only have 30 seconds!

If the timer runs out before a question has been read in full or before the player can answer, no one wins a token.

WINNING THE GAME

There are two ways to win FACT OR CRAP.

1. The game ends when all tokens are gone from the bank. Everyone counts their tokens and the player with the most is the winner, proving that they know the most Hollywood FACT and CRAP!
2. When a player loses all of their tokens they are out of the game. If all players but one have lost their tokens, the remaining player wins!
